S. HAS MOST SHIPS, BUT J. B. RULES THE SEAS

Americans Strongest in Anti-Aircraft Guns.

BY JOHN STEELE.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, March 1.—Despite the Washington naval pact, Britannia still rules the waves. The blue book was issued today giving the strength of the navies of Great Britain, the United States, Japan, France, Italy, Russia, and Germany. It shows that while the United States has a total of 548 ships, Great Britain has 444, the preponderance is wholly in destroyers and submarines, while Great Britain leads in capital ships.

Great Britain and the United States
each have eighteen battleships, while Great Britain has four battle cruisers and the United States has none; Great Britain has forty-seven cruisers and the United States thirty-two; Great Britain has 173 destroyers and the United States has 207; Great Britain has six submarines and the United States 124. In ships being built and on order, Great Britain has two battleships and fifteen cruisers, while the United States has only eight cruisers.

Big Guns on U. S. Ships.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, March 1.—The Evening
Standard today displayed in its front page the revelation of what it declared to be a secret jealously guarded solar by Americans, concerning the armament of the newest United States battleships. It says that five out of eight new American battleships are to be equipped with the most powerful guns of their type, eight inch anti-aircraft guns, capable of attacking aircraft flying six miles overhead.
The statistics come from the blue book of the "power" navy, issued today.

The latest anti-aircraft guns now carried by British warships is said to be of four inch caliber, even the new battleships, the Nelson and Rodney, when launched have been kept secret, usually having none larger.

Washington, D. C., March 1.—(Sp-vestigation of the effects of prohibition by an impartial fact finding board to be set up by the President today, a sharp difference of opinion between Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, his assistant.

At a morning conference with the senior Gen. Andrews announced his enthusiastic approval of an impartial investigation of the economic and sociological effects of the ban of prohibition. In the afternoon
Secretary Mellon took just the opposite view.

It is the opinion of the secretary that no constructive or helpful would follow an independent investigation. If the theory is to be made he thinks it would be to set up by congress. The American people, Mr. Mellon believes, generally have made up their minds either for or against prohibition and a report of commission would not be likely to change their views.

WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH; GIRLS LEAP FOR LIVES

Victim Killed Trying to Save Coat in Fire.

One woman was burned to death and several girls escaped by jumping from windows of the third floor of the Western Hair Cloth company, 3109 Robinson street, when fire broke out in the building at 1:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Marcella Orlefka, 39 years old, 4937 South Marshfield avenue, ran to get her coat and hat and before she could reach a window to jump she was fatally burned. Firemen found her on the third floor with her coat and hat clutched tightly in her hands.

Flames Spread Rapidly.
The fire started on the second floor of the three story brick structure. The origin is not known. The flames quickly spread through the holes of hair cloth yarn.

More than 20 girls working on the third floor at machines weaving hair cloth were in a semi-panic. Some were successful in reaching the street by the stairway, but that exit was soon cut off by smoke and flames. The building had no fire escape and the girls started for the windows. There they hesitated, but it was their only avenue of escape.

Then 18 year old Josephine Bernas, 2877 Archer avenue, screamed to her older sister, Kate, "I'm going to jump." She climbed to the window and leaped to the cement walk below.
Kate followed her.

girls that jumped from the windows.
Isadore Abitzki, 45, of 2483 West Congress street, who also jumped, suffered a broken back. The others were not injured seriously.

COUNTY BOARD VOTES 186 MILES OF NEW ROADS

Cost of Year's Work Will Be $5,000,000.

BY J. L. JENKINS.

Cook county commissioners acting on the new wide-through route highway program yesterday voted unanimously for the resolution presented a week ago, which calls for the construction this year of 186 miles of new 20-foot concrete pavements, bridges and highway connections to cost approximately $5,000,000.

This big program when it was pointed out that adjournment would be taken for two weeks and that in the meantime the county highway department would be delayed in its preliminary surveys, if action were not taken.

Went Early Start.
The resolution was forwarded to Maj. George A. Quinn, county superintendent of highways with instructions for the department to make what minor changes are necessary in right of way locations and to begin building operations at the first possible moment.

The program as it stands calls for two entirely new through routes from south to north in the county, and forty-eight additional improvements, connections and traffic diversions ranging from a quarter of a mile to ten miles in length.

The longest improvement calls for the cutting through and laying of a twenty-foot concrete pavement on the line of Harlem avenue from 146th street on the south to Milwaukee avenue on the north, a distance of twenty-five miles. This will offer a new wide through route for all traffic entering or originating in the southern part of Cook county and bound for points in the west or northwest of the county. It will form a new gateway road to the city.

Cicero Avenue Route.
Cicero avenue is the second longest route designated. Its new paving will start at 167th street on the south and run to 159th street, then connecting with the present road. New paving will then be laid from 147th street to 56th street and from 57th street to Ogden avenue.

An entirely new gateway and connecting road from the southwest is ordered in the McCarthy road improvement of ten miles. It will run from Leport straight east to connect with Harlem avenue, forming a short traffic route into Chicago from the Bay.

Practically all of the recommendations made by the joint highway building bodies of Cook county, Illinois and the federal government are embodied in the new program. The roads, when

HUSBAND, TARGET OF WIFE'S BULLET, DIES OF HIS WOUND

Gustave Olsen, 47 year old, contractor, died at the Keystone hospital late last night of five bullet wounds inflicted by his 47 year old wife, Alma, on Sunday.

The shooting occurred at the Olsen home, 8330 Castello avenue, after the wife accused the husband of an intention to get rid of her for another woman. After he had been taken to the hospital Olsen denied there was any basis for her belief.

Mrs. Olsen was arrested and charged with assault with intent to kill and was to have been arraigned today before Judge Eberhardt. In view of the fact that an inquest will be held today the case will be continued.

ever possible, will be built with state aid. County forces will build the pavements and turn them over to the state highway department for maintenance receiving a refund of part of the road costs when the transfer is made.

Members of the roads and bridges committee considered a plan of exclusive county building this year, but were advised by the state highway department that all interests can be better served by constructing the roads under the old "15 D" provisions of the state law.

he stands. Of late he has commented freely on the indifference of foreign buyers and of the public in general. The foreigners have purchased only small amounts from the wheat exporting countries.

Wheat Bulls Confounded.
Wheat bulls were disappointed at the turn taken by the market, as reports have recently been favorable to their cause. Farm reserves are estimated at only 91,000,000 bushels, as against 118,000,000 bushels at this time last year. Available supplies in country mills and elevators are estimated at 167,000,000 bushels, as against 180,000,000 bushels on March 1, 1925. Furthermore, it is pointed out, only 75,000,000 bushels are now available for export and carry-over to July 1, while the amount available last year was 187,000,000 bushels. The figures are comforting the bulls, but they failed to bring in enough help to prevent the crash of prices. Instead they became tired and unloaded.

Those working for lower prices maintain that the New York and Chicago prices are out of line with the world market. A few days ago wheat here was 5 cents higher than in Liverpool, with a 25-cent shipping charge between the markets.

For U. S. Regulation.
Governmental regulation, regarded as favorable to sellers and不利 to buyers, is believed to have had a part in the break. At any rate, confidence in higher prices has been shaken and conditions are regarded as unfavorable for higher prices in the near future.

Corn dropped to 77 1/2 cents for May, a loss of 4 cents on the day. This is within 1/2 cent of the lowest mark of the season. Rye broke 4 1/2 to 5 1/4 for May and oats were quoted at 40 1/2, at the close, a drop of 1 1/2.

One of the puzzling features of the wheat break is that the farm reserve is the second smallest on record. In 1925 this reserve was only 83,000,000 bushels. Today the 91,000,000 bushels is smaller in proportion to the population.

GERMANY TO KILL 7,488 USELESS LAWS IN BOOKS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

BERLIN, March 1.—Dr. Kuehn, German minister of the interior, today announced a general weeding out of the laws of the country, promising to cancel 7,488 laws and edicts out of the 18,000. He asserted that the remainder of more than 2,000 is "sufficient to rule the country."

Heretofore Germany's judges and administrators were forced to refer to fifty-eight volumes of laws. Herr Kuehn says this is a waste of time, energy, and the money of the taxpayers.

Similar common sense reforms will be introduced in all branches of the administration, Herr Kuehn announced, with an energy which will terrify the army of Germany's old-fashioned officials. Herr Kuehn will introduce new courts to protect republicanism and will declare war openly on numerous officials who are secretly supporting the old form of government and abetting the republican laws.

He is the first minister of the interior who has dared in the eight years of the republic to threaten the anti-republican officials with immediate dismissal.

FARMERS HINT REVOLT UNLESS RELIEF IS GIVEN

Met in Washington to Seek New Laws.

WANTHUR SEARS HENNING.

(Special Tribune Staff Service.)

Washington, D. C., March 1.—Intense drive for the passage of legislation to enable farmers to obtain higher prices for their products, mid-western growers and leaders of agricultural organizations, meeting tonight in conference with senators and representatives from the corn and wheat belts, called for a showdown between the farmers on the one hand and congress on the other.

The atmosphere of the conference was highly electrified with hints, intimations and more or less thinly veiled threats that unless there are special measures taken to increase domestic market prices, there will be a political revolt in the west of disastrous consequences to the present political powers.

Went Political Leaders.

The conference tonight was called by the executive committee of 25 sponsored by the North Central States agricultural conference, which met at the Midway a few weeks ago and issued the Dickinson surplus control bill. It is considered a report to the conference on the present plight of the farming farmer, the executive committee, of which George N. Peck of Illinois is chairman, served grim warnings that the farmers will not continue to suffer a political leadership that fails to deliver the legislation the farmers now demand.

"This situation is economic rather than political," said the report. "Every farmer has been since the first meeting held at St. Paul in July, 1924, to keep it out of partisan politics. It is, however, the new alliance of the farmers and the political leadership that fails to deliver the legislation the farmers now demand."

At the conference, the report was read and the farmers were urged to support the legislation. The report also stated that the farmers are now in a position to demand a new political leadership that will deliver the legislation the farmers now demand.

Panama canal. The cheap water transportation the canal affords is enabling the seaboard to underbid midwestern farmers.

Talk was heard of carrying the issue into the 1928 Presidential election if the farmers fail to get what they want.

The names of for-producers who are limited to rail transit.

Gov. Lowden of Illinois, who has endorsed the Dickinson bill in principle, Senator Capper, both Republicans, and E. T. Meredith of Iowa, Democrat, and former secretary of agriculture, are most frequently mentioned as potential Presidential candidates favored by the farmers.

The trouble with the farmer, according to the committee of 25, is that "certain forces after the war reduced the purchasing power of farm products to new low levels with inevitable impairment of capital invested in agriculture, and of agriculture's share in the national income."

It took the Evanston police just fifteen minutes yesterday to rush Abraham Savage, 22 years old, a Negro, into and out of Justice Samuel Harrison's court, where he was arraigned and held on $25,000 bonds for an alleged attack last Thursday night upon Miss Fannie Rachecki, 20 years old, 1521 Wesley avenue.

After he had pleaded not guilty and his bonds had been set, he was quickly placed in a automobile waiting at the rear of the building and whirled away to the County Jail.

Evanston police were stationed in strategic positions about the courtroom while the Negro was inside. Several citizens had made threats.

Miss Rachecki twice identified Savage, who had been manager of a black and tan resort known as the De Luxe club at 1837 University place, in Evanston, known to the police to have a shady reputation.

BAUR BACKERS RESENT WARNING SENT BY DRYS

Call Methods Black Hand in Political Race.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

While local police was transcribing yesterday into a picture chasing contest to get the deadwood on politics and candidates who have been photographed at banquets with gangsters, racketeers and de luxe bootleggers, the North Side reverberated with the word "Warning."

It was headed with one word—"Warning."

It contained one of the stock arguments of the drys, and it started by expressing amazement "to find that there actually is a sentiment being created among society women, who have never served wine upon their tables, for the weakening of the Volstead act. They do not want the saloon back with its attendant evils, but they are being deceived by the widespread propaganda for beer and wine which at the same time plausibly decries against the saloon."

While the text was conventional enough, the caption started things moving.

The word "Warning," brought an explosion from the Baur camp that could be heard from the Gold Coast to Goose Island.

It is an implied threat," said the Baur managers. "True, it is not decorated with the skull and cross bones and the black hand, but where does it differ in essence from the threatening note pinned to the door saying put the stuff in a cigar box in the old tree stump, or your son will be kidnapped?"

Any group has a right to put forth its views, but when it sends them entirely dissimilar to those of the Black Hand, Mrs. Baur is running for congress in the Ninth against the Hon. Fred A. Britten, who got the Army-

Navy football game for Chicago. Both of them are for modification of the Volstead law.

The day Mrs. Baur announced her platform with a plank for light wines and beers, a printed slip, it appears, came in the mails from the Anti-Saloon league.

It was headed with one word—"Warning."

PARIS-SIBERIAN TRAIN SERVICE TO BE RESUMED

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, March 1.—As a symbol of the latest of Europe and Asia to "play ball" again in earnest came the announcement today that the famous trans-Siberian limited from Paris to Vladivostok would be reestablished immediately.

This magnificent organization, which took pre-war travelers by train across the two continents in fifteen days' time, traversing three capitals and linking two cities a month apart by boat, crashed into ruin with the war.

Wanted by Everybody.

First it was hampered by the upheaval raised by the Germans from 1914 to 1918; then by the Russian revolution. Today's announcement in Paris revealed that an end had been reached to the interminable discussions between all the countries involved—France, Germany, Latvia, Lithuania and Russia—who realized that a quick unbroken service would be to every body's benefit.

The service, who are craving foreign capital, are particularly enthusiastic to see this vast stretch of their country again within the pale of civilized communication.

Heretofore, during the last twelve years, a passenger bound from Western Europe for Vladivostok had to make several changes to reach Moscow, and then confide himself to the hands of the gods when he boarded the hit or miss choo-choo which now and then started off in the direction of Siberia, over the ruins of the imperial route.

Schedule of Trains.

The eastbound train will leave Paris Thursday afternoon at 3:15, and arrive at Berlin Friday morning at 8:40, which is a couple of hours faster than the best existing Paris-Berlin service.

It will reach Riga, Latvia, at 8 Saturday morning, Moscow at 9:30 Sunday morning, and Vladivostok Wednesday afternoon of the following week at 1:30, after having left behind a little stretch of some 8,000 miles.

Returning from the east, it will leave Vladivostok Wednesday afternoon at 5:30 and arrive at Moscow Saturday afternoon of the following week at 4:30. It will reach Riga the next day at 11:35 in the evening, Berlin, Monday at 9:25 p. m., and Paris Tuesday afternoon at 3:30.

Senator Norris said he had heard two stories about the Mexican correspondence. "I am trying to find out," he added, "whose word pile the matter is in."

He said he was afraid to have "too big a request" made in his resolution, because he thought there was danger it would halt obtaining the material he desired. He suggested that another resolution be proposed to get the other information.

Senator Borah brought the debate to a close with his disclosure of the fact that another note is ready for dispatch to Mexico City and that publication of all the correspondence will probably not be delayed much longer.

Borah Asks Short Delay.

Neither Secretary Kellogg nor the Mexican ambassador, as I understand it," said Senator Borah, "objects to having the correspondence published. The delay has been due to the fact that the correspondence is still in progress. I think, however, the secretary of state is to send his reply to the last letter of the Mexican government today and it is presumed that that will close the correspondence."

"As nearly as I can ascertain the facts, the representative of the Mexican government and the secretary of state will then be willing to have the correspondence published. I would suggest that the resolution go over for another day or so, because I think we will get the correspondence quite as speedily as if the resolution should be passed now. The delay has been due to the fact that it was thought wise to wait until the correspondence was concluded."

LADY CYNTHIA HELPS DONKEY PULL MINE CART

Visitors Have a "Comical
Time" in Colliery.

She has a title and is one of the best looking women in England. But she was not here to see the mine.

She was an M. P. for six years and her father is fifth baronet of Ancoats, one of the most distinguished baronets in all England. But he put a shadow over his English tweeds, crowded about on his stomach, and had a great time.

When Lady Cynthia Mosley and her husband, Capt. Oswald Mosley, had to rush away to make a train back to Chicago and attend a banquet, it is no wonder the miners at the La Salle County Carbon Coal company voted them the two best sports who had ever ridden a coal car or washed the grime of mine dirt from behind their ears.

As for the English visitors, they found it a "truly comical time," as well as a significant study in social and industrial conditions in American mines.

The Mosleys left Chicago early yesterday morning and arrived at La Salle shortly before noon, where they were met by Adam Currie, mining executive, who drove them directly to the mine.

Here Lady Cynthia slipped an oilskin coat over her brown tweed suit and traded her smart brown felt hat for a miner's cap with its lamp at the peak. Capt. Mosley pulled on overalls, and the pair stretched out flat in a coal car as the tour started.

Lady Helps Donkey.

At one place, when the donkeys could go no farther, the men got out to push the cars along. Presently Lady Cynthia, when she thought nobody was noticing her, got out and put her shoulder to the side of the car.

When the trip was over the British visitors went to a barn, where they "washed up" before going out to view the overground part of the mine and the homes of the workers.

Early this morning the Mosleys plan to visit the stockyards. This afternoon they will go to the offices of Dr. William Larkin, 104 South Michigan boulevard, to exchange war time recollections with Dr. Larkin and with William Glaver, the former full back on Georgia Tech's famous "golden tornado" football team of 1920.

Knew Lady Cynthia as a Nurse.

Dr. Larkin was a captain, and Mr. Glaver, a lieutenant, with the 120th infantry in Europe during the world war. Both men were wounded and were sent to the hospital at Lingfield, Surrey, the home which Mrs. Herbert Spencer Clay turned over for war service. Lady Cynthia Curzon was a nurse there, and the two men recalled yesterday that the girl who later married Capt. Mosley, "worked night and day to do what she could for the American boys."

This evening Comrade Mosley and his wife will be the guests of the Chicago Socialists at dinner at the Morrison hotel.

Late this evening the Mosleys leave for Detroit, then on to East Liverpool, Ohio, to view the pottery works. They plan to sail for Europe March 13, just one day after the date set for the Chicago contest in which Lady Cynthia's aunt, the duchess of Suffolk, will charge Lady Cynthia's uncle, Joseph Leiter, with mishandling the funds of the $100,000,000 estate of Levi Z. Leiter.

Marmalade Is the Mode.
(Chicago Tribune From London.)

PARIS, Feb. 21.—The sudden appearance of various marmalade costumes for women—the masculine note of garments shown for spring and summer—and the over increasing popularity of these "male" modes for even the most fastidious and of the dressmaking trade of Paris today. Psychologists, politicians, and so on, are interested themselves in the phenomenon. They are asking: Will the diametrically opposite effect—the feminizing of men's clothes—be a logical development?

Woman's "Tux" Goes Big.
In Paris couturiers are showing a model of a man's tuxedo suit, except that a skirt is substituted for trousers. Scores of these already have been sold, and many of the most beautiful women, including Americans and English fashion leaders, are seen wearing them at dinner at the most exclusive hotels and restaurants. The jacket is usually of black pique velvet, with satin collar and trimmings, a white silk waistcoat and a lace jabot and lace cuffs.

NEW YORK STATE WILL BE PUT ON BUSINESS BASIS

Hughes Report Gives Many Changes.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 1.—[Special.]—Changes in the structure of the state government, more sweeping than any heretofore attempted, are provided for in the report of the state reorganization commission, headed by Charles H. Hughes, which was submitted to the legislature tonight.

The commission has been at work for months preparing an elaborate plan for the reconstruction of the administrative departments in conformity with the so-called "short ballot" amendment to the constitution which was approved by the voters in the general election last year.

The object of the reorganization is to place the state government on a business basis, to eliminate useless offices, to cut waste, and to centralize the responsibility for the conduct of the state's affairs.

Recommendations of Report.
Chief recommendations of the report follow:

Consolidation of 180 departments, commissions, bureaus, and other agencies into eighteen main divisions, with which are grouped all the administrative activities of the state.

Creation of an executive budget, giving to the governor responsibility and authority for formulating and proposing the state budget, but allowing the legislature to add separate items to the budget bill in such form as to be subject to the governor's veto.

Extension of the term of the governor to four years and increasing his salary now $10,000—but making no suggestion as to whether his election should or should not come in a presidential year.

Reuben State Treasurer.
The secretary of state will become an appellate officer chosen by the governor. The state treasurer will go out of existence, as will the state auditor, the functions of the former being merged into the department of finance and insurance, and those of the latter into the department of public works.

Individuals are provided instead of commissions to manage the important branches of the administration, with the power to appoint and remove them at will.

The state athletic commission and the state racing commission would be transferred to the department of state, which would be headed by the secretary of state.

LEAGUE NOTIFIED BY U. S. THAT IT JOINS TRIBUNAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., March 1.—(Special.)—State department officials today notified the secretariat of the league of nations that this government has sent its ratification to forty-eight governments receiving them of the senate's action in ratifying the league of nations treaty.

The secretariat of the league of nations today received the ratification of the United States to the league of nations treaty. The ratification was sent to the secretariat of the league of nations by the United States government.

42 tracts of unused army land in 14 states as a means of financing the Davis' Plan to part the $110,000,000. Sell Army Land 0.00 comprehensive program, sponsored by Secretary of War Davis, was passed by the house this afternoon, in spite of vigorous opposition from the Democratic leaders. Under the bill, which now goes to the President for his signature, it is expected that approximately $30,000,000 can be realized from the sale of the various reservations for the construction of hospitals and barracks.

Measures simplifying the naturalization procedure for alien veterans of the United States. Alien Veterans during the world war were ap- proved by the house. Under the Bacon bill, which now goes to the senate, alien veterans discharged from the army or navy may present themselves to the nearest naturalization commissioner without the necessity of filing a declaration of intention or paying the customary fees. The bill waives none of the other requirements demanded of prospective citizens under the naturalization laws, however.

With both the army and the navy, calling for large additional appropriations for the building of new ships. Air Service, prospective air service, and the President's emphasis on the necessity of the strictest economy as the result of the passage of the $387,000,000 tax reduction bill, a showdown on the whole aviation question is expected shortly.

MUSCLE SHOALS PROBLEM AGAIN BEFORE SENATE

To get up those shoals in their dug-out, the Indians found, took a great deal of muscle. So they named them Muscle Shoals. They named them better than they knew, for this Muscle Shoals project has been before the senate since 1920.—SENATOR HEPBURN.

[To the United States senate yesterday afternoon.]

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., March 1.—(Special.)—When Senator Heflin (Dem., Ala.), said in the senate this afternoon that "the power trust and the fertilizer trust" were fighting the proposal that the government open new and comprehensive negotiations to lease for 50 years its properties at Muscle Shoals, then Senators McKellar (Dem., Tenn.) and Smith (Dem., S. C.) shouted with laughter.

"I observe," said Senator Heflin, "that certain senators are amused." "We are amused!" exclaimed Senator Smith, jumping to his feet and bowing to the offending Heflin.

"In that case," responded the junior senator from Alabama, "I have only to say that you'll be more amused than that before this discussion is over."

Again before Senate.

Thus, after months of quietude, Muscle Shoals got itself before the senate once more and quietude forthwith ended. Debate was long and acrimonious. When Senator Heflin again voiced his fears that power and fertilizer trusts might exercise undue influence in the ultimate settlement of the question, Senator Caraway (Dem., Ark.) objected to careless broadcasting of such insinuations.

The debate on Muscle Shoals brought also the government ownership and the private ownership protagonists into a clash. Senator Norris (Rep., Neb.) led the former and insisted that the pending senate-house concurrent resolution to invite new leases was out of order because it undertakes to amend "permanent statute of the United States," which can be done only by a joint resolution.

Norris Is Overruled.

Vice President Dawes ruled the point of order not well taken, and, upon Norris' appeal from the decision of the chair, the senate finally voted by 58 to 15 to lay the appeal on the table. The news in that vote was that after six years the senate is showing a desire to reach a settlement of the Muscle Shoals problem.

FENG'S TROOPS HALT FOE; RALLY TO SAVE TIENTSIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PEKING, March 1.—Determined to hold Tientsin at all hazards, Marshal Feng Tu-hsiang's Kuomintang army leaders are pushing troops to the battle line, forming to the south of that city and extending to the west seventy miles in the direction of Pao-tung-fu, which also will be held against the Chihli and Shantung forces. The entire Peking garrison has been shifted to Tientsin, occupying the native city.

Using armored cars, the Christian General's troops have stopped the advance of Li Chung-shan, deposed governor of Chihli, whose main front runs from the Machang-Taku canal westward. The railway to the east of Tientsin is held by the Kuomintang troops, against which the Shantung view is forcing a landing at Taku. Forces are moving by the sea, with a Although officially Gen. Feng has not returned to military life, it seems certain that he is directing the campaign.

STATE ENGINEERS CHARGED $50,000 FOR SMALL FUND

Levies, Based on Pay, Announced at Urbana.

Urbana, Ill., March 1.—[Special.]—At the close of the short special course in road construction at the University of Illinois last week the construction engineers of the state division of highways were officially called on for donations to the "Let Small Public Defense Fund" aggregating $50,000.

The were called together by Frank Sheets, chief highway engineer, Friday morning at the Urbana-Lincoln hotel, far enough distant from the university to make secrecy easy. But to insure against the intrusion of outsiders, Fred Tarrant, chief engineer of the maintenance section, was assigned to guard the door.

$300 is Maximum.

Then, after everybody was present or accounted for, Chief Engineer Sheets read off the scale of assessments, the various rates calling for contributions ranging from $75 for the young engineers to $300 for the higher salaried men.

This was the comment of one of those present who would lose his job if his name were made public: "Of course the request was carefully worded and we were assured we were contributing voluntarily; but this statement was far from convincing since it was followed by the figures indicating what each man was expected to pay."

"In substance, engineers up to and including Grade one were asked to pay one-half of one month's salary. The district engineers of whom there are twelve, and the bureau chief's were told to pay an entire month's salary. These amounts, it was explained, could be paid in three installments or distributed over a period of three months. Benedict is Collector.

"To emphasize the necessity of complying with this demand we were informed that all constructions were to pass through the hands of R. R. Benedict who has charge of employing men in the highway division. This was a delicate way of telling us we'd be checked up. It didn't take an engineer to figure our chances of remaining in the state's employ if we refused our $75, $100, $200 or $300, as the case might be.

"The engineers of the highway department have never been so flagrantly approached before. We felt we were unique in our division, even made perhaps, since we hold our position on our merits and are not political appointees.

"But despite this feeling of security, the demand on this group of engineers alone is for the significant sum of $50,000. And this is exclusive of the amount to be demanded of the maintenance department. Since the maintenance department is composed of political appointees, it is safe to assume that the amount collected from its members will exceed that demanded from our group.

"The feeling in our group is resentment of this brazen attempt to coerce the citizens of a free commonwealth."

Costs Him $200 and Costs for 3 False Fire Alarms

Frank Wilson, 15 East Erie street, was fined $200 and costs yesterday by Judge Lester of the Chicago avenue court after witnesses testified that he turned in three false fire alarms Saturday evening.

DEBT PACT WITH ITALY BEST U. S. CAN GET: MELLON

Ratify It or Lose All,
His Warning.

Washington, D. C., March 1.—[Special.]—The treasury department today made public a letter from Secretary Mellon to the President, setting forth his views relative to ratification by the senate of the Italian debt pact.

Mr. Mellon gives the Mussolini government credit for making the negotiations possible and takes the position that future payments from both France and Italy are involved in the attitude of the senate to the Italian pact.

"About a year ago we began pressing our debtors for settlements," Mr. Mellon says. "At about the same time England announced its intention of restoring the gold standard."

U. S. Only Market for Loans. "There was only one other large market for foreign loans in the world, the market in this country. As a matter of administrative policy it was determined to deny recourse to our money market by the debtor nations, or their nationals, until the nation negotiated a settlement of its debt to the United States."

"Assuming that the Italian debt settlement is not accepted by the senate, I should like to consider what arguments can be presented to Italy, which would influence it in negotiating with us a new and more onerous settlement."

"After thorough discussion a settlement was arrived at, which, in the opinion of the American commission, fairly represents Italy's capacity to pay. The settlement was approved by you and was passed by the house of representatives. If now the senate failed to approve the settlement I think it would be obvious to the world that their reason was political, and not fiscal."

Italy Has Met Obligations. "Italy, within its capacity, has met its international obligations, in the view of an expert American commission. Neither in America nor Europe would her moral credit be hurt if then she refused to renegotiate. No government could stand in Italy which undertook, in a new settlement, to pay more than the expert American commission has said was fair."

"It is my conclusion, therefore, that the only practical effect on Italy of a failure to approve the debt settlement would be that Italy would be relieved, for the present, at any rate, of any payments, and no settlement more favorable to the United States would likely be made in the future."

"I feel that a failure to approve the Italian settlement would render doubtful the possibility of an early settlement with France."

Gasoline and Corn

A bushel of corn will buy more gasoline today than it would buy twelve years ago. How much more?

Using as authority the latest statistics published by the United States Department of Agriculture, the question can be answered accurately.

The Monthly Crop and Market Bulletin gives the average farm price of corn, for 1913, as $6.01 per bushel.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) average Chicago tank wagon price for gasoline, for the year 1913, was $1.4837 per gallon. (For comparative purposes we select Chicago as a representative city of the Middle West.)

Thus it is shown that in 1913 one bushel of corn would buy 4.05 gallons of gasoline.

The average farm price for corn, during the year 1925, was $1.019 per bushel.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) average Chicago tank wagon price for gasoline was $1.7276 per gallon.

Thus it is shown that in 1925 one bushel of corn would buy 5.89 gallons of gasoline, or 45.4% more than in 1913.

This fact speaks volumes for Standard Oil Company (Indiana) success in keeping down the price of gasoline, in the face of a constantly increasing demand.

This accomplishment involved the development of cracking processes which doubled the yield of gasoline from a given quantity of crude oil.

It is not too much to say that, when, a few years ago, this nation faced a shortage of gasoline that these processes saved the situation.

Without them the price of gasoline probably would have been double what it is today.

After developing these processes, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) did not keep them for its exclusive use. It leased them to competitors, that they also might do their bit in conserving an essential basic resource.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) believes that the farmer particularly, appreciates its success and its persistent effort to keep the price of gasoline low.

Gasoline is essential to the business of farming. Without it, modern farm practice would be impossible and much of our up-to-date farm equipment would be useless. Without it, labor costs would advance enormously; crops would be jeopardized and the nation suffer.

Low price gasoline means cheap power and greater prosperity for the farmer. When the farmer prospers—we all prosper.

LEGION OF HONOR MAKES MEMBERS OF OWN MEDALS

France Gets Poor Giving Out Crosses.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PARIS, March 1.—The grand chancery of the Legion of Honor today threw up its hands, announcing that it was unable to cope any longer with the rising flood of new decorations.

Transfer of those honored by the French government's famous order of merit is a shop somewhere, the officials of the legion say. They complain that the legion has not enough money to pay for the thousands of crosses awarded yearly, nor enough to help put them in the mail. This state of affairs, which is sure to arouse a scandal and give rise to obvious evils when every Frenchman is empowered to sell the medal, is expected to be investigated at the next cabinet meeting.

4,000 Decorated in 3 Months.
The French press tonight carried amazing figures, revealing the wholesale decorations in recent years, not only in the war, but since. In the three months since Dec. 1, last, 5,000 decorations have been handed out to swell the number of legionnaires and wearers of military medals, which then amounted to 111,390 of the former, and 300,012 of the latter. Although the military medals are confined to actual fighting and the crosses are not members of the legion, the grand chancery takes care of its distribution.

"Legion Getting Too Common."
A great cry of amazement has gone up over the revelations of the size of the legion since a year before the war. There were only 111,000 legionnaires and military medalists combined. The number jumped to 400,000 during the war, but since the war the number has continued to increase. The grand chancery, directed by Marshal Foyelle, alone gave out 240,000 military medals.

But the mushroom growth of the legion, which is the goal of every Frenchman, is arousing the criticism that it is getting too common.

WATSON-PARKER R. R. LABOR BILL PASSED BY HOUSE, 381 TO 13

Washington, D. C., March 1.—(Special.)—The Watson-Parker railroad labor bill, abolishing the railroad labor board, and providing for settlement of rail labor disputes by direct conference between railroads and their employes, and mediation and voluntary arbitration of disputes, was passed today by the house by a vote of 381 to 13.

The house passed the bill substantially as it had been drafted by representatives of a majority of the railroads and twenty "standard" railroad labor organizations, accepting the plea of the management and their employes that the bill constituted an agreement that would establish "peace" in the railroad labor world.

The bill has been favorably reported to the senate by the senate interstate commerce committee and passage there is expected shortly.

R. R. SHORT LINE LOSES SUIT FOR WARTIME CLAIM

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Mar. 1.—(Special.)—Short line railroads seeking compensation from the government for alleged use of their properties in the first six months of the period of federal control of railroads will be adversely affected by a decision of the supreme court today in the case of the Marion and Rye Valley railway against the United States.

The railroad sought to recover $14,436 for the use of its property, claiming it had been taken over by the government for the period Dec. 18, 1917, to June 23, 1918. The court of claims denied the claim and the carrier appealed. The supreme court sustained the court of claims.

The government denied liability, contending there was not a legal taking of the property, and that even if there was, the company was not entitled to any compensation because it suffered no pecuniary loss.

ENGLAND CHIEF TARGET OF SPY ARMY OF RUSSIA

BY COUNTESS P.

(Former member of the G. P. U., Soviet Russia, secret service.)

(Copyright 1926 by The Chicago Tribune.)

England may be considered as the bugbear and one of the foremost worries of Soviet Russia. She has too much matter of fact common sense, traditions too old and rooted to eradicate by mere propaganda, a power constructed on too solid foundations.

A difficult problem to handle, yet, the G. P. U. organization is handling it with wit and courage, worthy really of a better cause.

The Irish question and the mining problem are apart from the dominions and colonies, of which we shall speak later, the main British point on which the G. P. U. is working.

The intricate questions of debt, relations with France and Germany, and the tolling down of the heritage of political, let us say "slight indiscretions" left by Britain's one and only socialist cabinet, afford a wide scope for the engineering of intrigues dear to the G. P. U. workers.

Among the communist parties represented in the Komintern, the British Communist party is the least numerous, the least "malleable," but perhaps on this very account, the most "taken care of." As a post for G. P. U. chiefs and workers, England is eagerly sought after, and considered one of the most interesting and remunerative (in the purely financial sense).

Describe London Organization.

The organization in London is what it is in Paris and all other capitals. The ground was carefully prepared by the numerous commercial missions, which granted the country with their presence before actual recognition and carried on later under the convenient screen of the embassy. There is no doubt whatever that the suave and eminently gifted Comrade Rakowsky was closely connected with it, notwithstanding his many bland and half-hearted details.

As a matter of fact, soviet representatives indulge in Jesuitism quite freely, playing on the fundamental ignorance of all those concerned on the question of G. P. U. activities. They are always taxed with the "Komintern propaganda" and there their denial is always sincere, the Komintern propaganda being only conducted by Comrade Zinoviev, whose worst enemies can not accuse him of hiding his light under a bushel. Thus the soviet representative may always answer truthfully enough, "If we don't take into consideration the mental reservation he is bound to make in that all-important propaganda question."

Study Many Problems.

The section for England is perhaps the one which has to study most the numerous social and political questions. Classes are held in that section on the politics, social matters, customs, traditions, etc., etc., of England. I have seen members of the G. P. U. study strenuously the British Debrett and Peerage, wade deeply into the history of the country, while the history of Ireland, the curriculum vitae of Irish leaders, Ulster oppositionists, and impoverished Irish peers are features of the preparatory work.

The great difficulty for Russia in fomenting revolutionary trouble in England is the almost complete absence of the peasant element, which is always the easiest to handle. The British workman seems to have a mind and a conscience of his own, and to be endowed with a certain mental independence and a sound critical sense, which do not make him readily susceptible to the "go ahead without asking unnecessary question" motto of soviet creeds.

Once Urged War on Britain.

Russia's hatred of England is deep-rooted and vital, and its expression both open and secret. England is considered as the chief stumbling block to the world revolution.

The representative of Great Britain has much to suffer at the hands of the G. P. U. service in Moscow, and a less clever and picky man would certainly give up his rather unpleasant position, but this is nothing to the scheming of the G. P. U. service to entrap England into internal or external complications.

It is freely said in G. P. U. circles that as long as England endures as a power the hopes of a world revolution are slight. The writer was in Moscow at the time of Lord Bickenhead's famous speech on Russia's intrigues both in the east and in England. Hatred then was let loose to such an extent that street speakers advocated immediate war with England. The G. P. U. general staff dispatched numerous agents to all parts of the United Kingdom, with almost reckless orders to promote discontent and disorders wherever possible.

The writer knows that the "supreme chief" of the G. P. U. service in England is an ex-naval officer of the czarist navy. Active propaganda is carried out in England by eastern students at Oxford and Cambridge, while, even in other countries, every person boasting of "high" connections in British political or simply aristocratic circles, is eagerly sought after.

The great aim is to promote strife, to ruin British industry and commerce, while a subsidiary aim is to achieve England's "splendid isolation" in regard to France especially.

In order to attain that particular aim, a far-reaching propaganda was carried out in France to persuade her that England was closely concerned with the rising in Syria, while at the same time France was approached with a view to a special "colonial" agreement, which stipulated that so long as France condoned anti-British propaganda in her colonies (used as a channel for reaching the British colonies) she might rest assured of a "friendly neutrality" as regards her own colonial worries.

This special line was adopted in the spring of 1925, the aim being to compromise France and ultimately disclose the whole affair to England.

Bring Out the Hidden Beauty

Do you know that just beneath that soiled, discolored, faded or aged complexion is one fair to look upon? Mercolized Wax will gradually, gently peel off the devitalized surface skin, revealing the young, fresh, white, beautiful skin underneath. The new complexion is a perfectly natural one, not to be compared with a make-up. The Wax leaves no trace but that of increased loveliness.

It Really Assists Nature

Isn't it better to remove a bad complexion than to try to hide or cover up the defects? This peeling method is painless, for the skin veil of outer skin has no nerves. Nature renews complexions the same way, constantly shedding tiny particles of the surface covering or scarf skin. But in time this process slows up. Then Mercolized Wax

Comes to the Rescue and hastens the skin shedding. This is the secret of its marvelous success. So if your skin is old-looking, yellow, over-red, blotchy, parched, rough, oily—the stubborn scarf skin—take it off! Have your pimples, freckles, moth patches, liver spots? Peel them off!

DANISH PRINCE GIVES VIEW OF FOREIGN LEGION

Yanks Among 48 Kinds in His Company.

BY SIDNEY SUTHERLAND.
The prince of Denmark is a prince. That is, in Danish or American. When he answers questions he wraps an enormous long right leg two or three times around its mate, leans back in his easy chair in the bungalow atop the Hotel Sherman, and tells in casual detail what he thinks about whatever it is he is asked about.

"The French Foreign Legion," says this unregal relative of three European monarchs, "is a marvelous institution. It is far greater to be a captain in that silent, secretive, effective war instrument than to be a king and be bored to death by diplomats and court procedure."

No Questions Asked.
"I like to think of the legion as a military monastery. It is graphically called 'the port of missing men.' No recruit is ever asked a question about his past. Only the name he chooses to use at the time is written on the roster."

Under my captaincy is a company of 250 men. I know their names and nothing else about them. But God help the officer who falters under fire! The fire is pretty hot when it is asked by the Rifians. You may make mistakes, and it may be a bloody one; but if you bat your eye when the bullets are whining about you you might as well resign; the men never will obey you again."

Yankers Are There, Too.
"Among my 250 men are 48 Americans. My chief lieutenant is an American who calls himself Hamilton. I never heard his first name. There are perhaps a dozen Yankers in my unit."

Then, the Rif leader, finds the support his armies require in the Third Internationale, Gandhi of India, the Egyptian party, and other subject nations. He never is in the foreground, remaining concealed in the Moroccan mountains. His brother, Si Mahomet, is the active chieftain.

The French have 150,000 fighting men and 10,000 in reserve. The war will be resumed about May 25 and continue until the November rains. I fancy the uprising will be definitely crushed this year.

"The fighting is conducted along a 300 kilometer front in difficult country. The Rifians are brave and tireless fighters. But they cannot win this struggle."

Prince Aga makes light of a wound he received last fall when one of his own field pieces exploded. But it was serious enough to get him a leave, and for a time he rejoined his wife, formerly Countess Calvi de Bergoglio of Italy. They were married in 1914, and she lives in Paris with their 11-year-old son, Valdemar.

Welcomed by Local Danes.
Yesterday was a busy day for the prince. L. Olsen, president of the American Danish national committee, accompanied by Mrs. M. Lange, John Schmidt, and Charles Ryberg, paid his compliments. There are 48 Danish soldiers in Chicago, and most of them were deputations.

Today the prince will have luncheon with E. J. Halberg. Later he will drive out to the Danish Old People's home on the northwest side. In the evening at 8:30 o'clock he will lecture in Orchestra hall on his experiences in the Rif campaign, and at 11 o'clock will be the honor guest at a banquet in Danish hall, 1261 North LaSalle avenue.

On March 25 Prince Aga returns to Europe and will be on hand with his legion company for the next expedition.

FINISH SANITARY DISTRICT AUDIT WITHIN A MONTH

Results of an audit of the books of the Chicago sanitary district, begun last July by the Association of Commerce, will probably be announced within two or three weeks.

Completion of the audit, it was learned yesterday, has been somewhat delayed due to difficulties in adjusting the accounting system of the district to the survey methods used by the auditors, Smart, Gore & Co.

William R. Daves, president of the Association of Commerce, said yesterday that he expected the report to be in his hands about March 15. Edward E. Gore, head of the auditing company, predicted that it would be finished at the latest by March 25 or April 1. The report, it is said, will be as searching as a clearing house in section of a bank.

WINN BOASTED OVER MURDER, WITNESS SAYS

It was just one sentence and it was uttered in Judge Emanuel Miller's courtroom early yesterday morning by Martin Stringham, one of the trio of self-confessed accomplices in the murder of Grandpa Albert Nushaum.

But the echo of his chilly syllables resounded throughout the day, even after half a dozen other witnesses had been called to the stand by Assistant State's Attorney Louis Gelman and Charles J. Mueller, in charge of the prosecution of Grandpa Nushaum and John Walton Winn.

Winn tells of killing.

It was the night of Dec. 29, Stringham explained, and as he sat in Della's kitchen eating a hearty supper after his day on the coal wagon Winn, boasting of his prowess in killing, said:

"Curly, I took seventeen blows to the head of the old man, and then he groaned an hour and a half with his brains scattered all over the floor."

The crowd and the fur coats are becoming more numerous as the time nears for grandpa to take the stand shivered and crouched as if they were being tortured by being made to listen. They had just fought their feminine way into the courtroom.

At the afternoon session six witnesses took the stand. Sheriff Ben H. Strong and Deputy Sheriff Thomas Platt of Lake county, Ind., told of arresting Winn at the Chicago hotel, Crown Point, the day after the murder, and of Winn's unsuccessful attempt to tear up a letter from Grandpa Nushaum to "my baby."

Albert Bastian, proprietor of the hotel, explained that Winn had been a guest there for two weeks, but was absent the day of and preceding the murder. Arnold Perks told how Edward Goff had purchased gasoline at his service station several hours after the death of Grandpa Nushaum.

Urged Delay in Killing.

Pollman James J. McGuire from the detective bureau, the last witness of the day, told, in the absence of the jury, of his conversation with Grandpa Nushaum in which she had confessed to a share in the conspiracy, but declared that she had urged Winn to postpone it, or, better yet, not to do it himself.

Attorney Elmer J. Schnakenberg, counsel for Mrs. Nushaum, and Attorney Rocco De Stefano, the lawyer whom the court appointed to defend Winn, protested over this testimony and Judge Miller will rule this morning. The state will probably rest its case late this afternoon.

Frank Johnson, rape; sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge John P. McHenry.

Frank Jell, contributing to the delinquency of children; sentenced to one year in the Reformatory by Judge George Fred Bush.

Edward Brunsbach and Matthew Luck, murder; sentenced to life imprisonment each; John Murphy and James Muller, robbery; assigned to one to ten year terms in the penitentiary, by Judge Harry H. Miller.

Andrew Buckholz, George Cassanova, and John Bartels, larceny; sentenced to one to ten year terms each in the reformatory; Gust Pappas, robbery; sentenced to three to twenty years in the penitentiary, by Judge William N. Gemmill.

Two young gangsters, Edward Brunsbach, 22, and Matthew Luck, 13, were given life terms in the penitentiary yesterday by Judge Harry H. Miller in the criminal court. They had pleaded guilty to the murder of Louis Ramin, war veteran, killed Dec. 10, while in his home, 3525 Ellis avenue. The youths posed as prohibition agents in order to enter the home. In addition to the murder sentences Judge Miller imposed 10-year life sentences for robbery.

Leniency was not opposed by Assistant State's Attorney Emmet Byrne and Harold Levy, because Mrs. George Ramin, the widow, did not want to see the murderers hanged. Another feature was the disappearance of Walter Scott, 4915 Blackstone avenue, a witness to the killings.

Andrew Buckholz, 18, George Cassanova, 17, and John Bartels, 23, who were implicated in a dozen fast-food robberies, were sentenced to 1 to 10 year terms by Judge William N. Gemmill. Frank Cairns, a co-defendant, who was armed with a knife, was sentenced to 10 years to life.

Are You Slipping?

MOST men begin to "slip" at about 35 or 40. Many women begin to lose their youth at 25. Animation, vivacity, disappears.

Life is slipping away from people of this sort. They are accumulating death in the form of minute cells that clog the tissues and handicap the functional processes.

So many people start out in life full of ambition and enthusiasm. They are stirred with thoughts of great things that they intend to accomplish.

But when they begin to slip all is changed. Life becomes a hard drive. Pleasurable moments are few and far between. Every day is prosaic, commonplace, and at times hard to endure.

It is at such times that suicide becomes inviting.

If you are engaged in business you soon find yourself in a rut—you cannot advance; you are on a downward path.

Your home life is unsatisfactory; and a home to deserve the name demands vigorous fatherhood and splendid motherhood.

When health disappears from the home, happiness goes also.

When you begin to slip, slowly but surely you lose your business acumen; your ability deteriorates. And without ability and business foresight, life in these strenuous days is a hard taskmaster.

You actually begin to die on your feet. Death stalks at your side. God help the family that depends upon a father or a mother who is so benighted as to accept with equanimity the verdict that he or she is "slipping."

If you are "slipping" you cannot blame anybody else. The fault lies within yourself.

You have transgressed the laws of life and health—you are paying a penalty you richly deserve. You are dying because you deserve to die. Wake up to your possibilities.

Every human entity is entitled to vigorous, pulsating, vital health. Ignorance and carelessness are the cause of "slipping" and premature death is the result, not occasionally, but in all instances.

Read PHYSICAL CULTURE and get out of the "has-been" class as soon as you can. It will open your eyes, expand your reasoning capacities, and bring you in direct and immediate contact with those simple laws of life that you may have outraged almost from the day of your birth.

In The March Issue

What to Eat

Each month Milo Hastings, Director of the Physical Culture Food Laboratory and leading authority on dietetic topics answers puzzling questions about food. In this issue he discusses the food value of nuts and mushrooms, the danger of monotonous menus, the effect of cooking upon fruits, the effect of food upon your body weight, the relationship between food and disease and the physical need for iodine and how to supply it. Thousands read Mr. Hastings' articles every month for the practical, commonsense knowledge they contain. Why not join them?

How I Made Myself Over

Rarely do you see a more glorious specimen of young American womanhood than Frances Joyce. An excellent general athlete and a splendid swimmer, she is a junior life guard with three rescues to her credit. You would hardly believe that her father died of tuberculosis and that only a short while ago she was weak, undernourished, thin, pale, listless and susceptible to every disease that came along. The manner in which a few changes in her daily life made her completely over into a delightful young Venus is a wonderful tribute to Physical Culture methods. She tells her story in Physical Culture for March. If you or any member of your family is underweight, run down or threatened with disease the simple readjustment she made will be of inestimable help.

Sick Headaches

If you are a sufferer from sick headaches anything that holds out hope of relief becomes invaluable. In Physical Culture for March is a thorough discussion of this dreaded ailment showing what causes it, how to avoid it and how to treat it once it gets you. Do not miss this opportunity to get information which makes this issue of Physical Culture worth many times its weight in gold to everyone afflicted with sick headaches.

A Youngster at 70

At seventy Jim Hocking is as hale and hearty as most men are at 40. He expects to go on being hale and hearty for many years to come. He is no prodigy, the possessor of no great health secrets. He is an ordinary individual like yourself. But, unlike most of us, he takes care of himself. And if you take care of yourself in the same practical commonsense way that he does you too can hope to be mentally and physically fit at seventy, eighty or ninety. He tells his story in Physical Culture for March. Do not miss it. It may mean years of added life.

A Nervous Wreck

He was a nervous wreck. Lumbago and sciatica had him firmly in their grip. At times he could not raise a hand to help himself. Medicine did not help him. Hospitals did not help him. The Home for Incurables loomed before him. At the last minute of the eleventh hour in desperation and despair he turned to Physical Culture for help—and got it. To day he is another man—strong, healthy, prosperous, happy. His story which reads like a romance, holds out glorious hope to every sufferer from weak nerves. Be sure and read it in Physical Culture for March.

A Great Health Service

Physical Culture renders a health service that is obtainable nowhere else. By means of the above editorial and paragraphs we have endeavored to give you an idea of the delightful manner in which the invaluable health information that crowds every issue is presented but we have fallen short of accomplishing our purpose. The only way to fully comprehend the scope and helpfulness of this great health magazine is to go through a copy page by page, revel in the wealth of powerful editorials, health and beauty exercises, child culture, personal health problems, superb rotogravure illustrations of physically perfect men and women and beautifully developed babies. STATE RESTS IN ASSAULT TRIAL OF RICH YOUTH Fail to Shake Confession Story of Co-ed.

Ypsilanti, Mich., March 1.—[Special.]—An attack on the credibility of Jean Macbeth, the state's surprise witness, who testified Arthur C. Rich had assaulted Miss Louise King, a co-ed of the University of Michigan, was opened today by defense attorneys.

Attorney William J. Barnard questioned Miss Macbeth about drinking, smoking, her conduct with men and automobile rides. Before the examination, Miss Macbeth detailed further the alleged confession of the youth on trial for assaulting Miss King.

Details Alleged Confession.

The told of Rich standing in the doorway of Louise King's room, pleading for an opportunity to "fix things up" before his father heard of the episode, and threatening that school authorities would expel the complaining witness if they heard of the affair.

Miss Macbeth is the daughter of the Rev. Dr. St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Vancouver. Defense attorneys were unable to shake her story. The state rested at 3 o'clock, after calling Dr. Albert S. Warthin, University of Michigan pathologist, to testify as to certain alleged bloodstains claimed to have been on Miss King's dress. The defense opened by calling prosecutor Clyde C. Cortright of Calumet county and Assistant Prosecutor Andrew J. Lockton. They were interrupted on their failure to have Miss Macbeth testify in the first trial.

Unable to Locate Her.

Both Cortright and Lockton said they were unable to have the girl in Ypsilanti Creek because they could not locate her.

Mrs. Ellen J. Rich, grandmother of the defendant, testified there were no marks on Rich's face on May 26, in contradiction to four witnesses called by the state.

COURT DECIDES WISCONSIN GIFT TAX IS INVALID

Also Restricts Law of North Carolina.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]—Washington, D. C., March 1.—[Special.]—Two states, Wisconsin and North Carolina, overstepped their authority in certain features of their inheritance tax laws, the United States Supreme court ruled today.

The court held invalid that part of the Wisconsin inheritance tax law which makes subject to the tax all gifts made within six years of death, regardless of whether or not such gifts were made in anticipation of death.

The court held that North Carolina exceeded its authority when it attempted to apply its inheritance tax to shares of stock in a New Jersey corporation held by a resident of Rhode Island, the tax in question having been imposed on the ground that two-thirds of the property represented by the corporate shares was located within the state of North Carolina.

Schlesinger Case Decided.

The Wisconsin decision was in the case of the estate of Ferdinand Schlesinger, who died in Milwaukee in 1921. Justice McReynolds delivered the decision in the court, reversing rulings by the Milwaukee County court and by the state Supreme court of Wisconsin. Justice Holmes filed a dissenting opinion.

The lower courts held to be subject to the Wisconsin inheritance tax four separate gifts aggregating more than $3,000,000 made to the decedent's wife and children within six years before his death, although such gifts were not made in anticipation of death. Justice Taft delivered the decision in the North Carolina case.

Must Return $1,000,000.

Madison, Wis., March 1.—[Special.]—Claims of about $1,000,000 for refunds will be made to the next legislature because of the decision by the United States Supreme court holding unconstitutional the Wisconsin law making all gifts made six years prior to death taxable.

BORERS STRIKE MICHIGAN.

Miss Anna Rogers, 54, nurse, was knocked down yesterday by two Negroes who she found stealing dresses and a radio set in the home of her employer, Mrs. A. C. Livera, of 1844 West 63rd street. The men escaped.

$1,693,000 FEE RECOVERY TRIAL TO START TODAY

Ten Lawyers in Suit Over City Realty Experts.

Trial of the suit started by TEN TRIBUNE in 1921 to recover $1,693,000 from the fees paid three city real estate experts during Mayor William Hale Thompson's administration is scheduled to start this morning before Judge Hugo M. Friend of the Circuit court.

This is a suit in chancery and there will be no jury. Ten lawyers will represent the various defendants and the taking of testimony and arguments is expected to require several weeks.

Attorneys Weymouth Kirkland and Howard Ellis will represent the complainants.

Ready for Trial Today.

"We are ready to go to trial in the morning," said Mr. Ellis last night. Attorney Samuel A. Ettelson came home from New York yesterday to be present in court this morning. He stated that he expected the case to go ahead at once.

"I had hoped," he said, "to have this case put off until after the primary election, as some of the defendants are interested in the primary results, but I think it can be tried without regard to political issues." Mr.

Ettelson's firm is representing Mr. Thompson.

Ernest H. Lyons, real estate expert, is represented by Albert Fink. Mr. Fink also represents Edward C. Waller Jr., another expert. A. R. Merigold, the third expert, is represented by John C. Farwell. Michael J. Faherty, former president of the board of local improvements, who hired the experts, is represented by George W. Miller and also by his son, Roger Faherty. Chester E. Cleveland will represent Percy B. Coffin. The city of Chicago will be represented by Corporation Counsel Hugh.

The Tribune suit is conducted for the taxpayers and any money recovered will be turned into the city treasury. It is contended that $45,000 would have been a reasonable fee for the experts, whose total claim was $2,015,000. Filing of the suit prevented the payment of $277,000 to the defendants.

Columbus, O., March 1.—[Special.]—Geo. W. Rightmore, who has been acting president of Ohio State university since Nov. 5, when William O'Leary Thompson retired as head of the institution, today was appointed president. Announcement of the appointment was made by the board of trustees late today.

Quaker Oats "stands by" you through the morning

Feel hungry and "fidgety" before lunch?—try this

To feel right through the morning, you must have well-balanced, complete food at breakfast. At most other meals—that is, at luncheon and at dinner—you usually get that kind of food.

But at breakfast the great dietary mistake is most often made—a hurried meal, often badly chosen.

Thus Quaker Oats, containing 16% protein, food's great tissue builder; 58% carbohydrate, its great energy element, plus all-important vitamins and the "bulk" that makes laxatives seldom needed, is the dietetic urge of the world today.

It is food that "stands by" you through the morning. Food that should start every breakfast in your home.

Quick Quaker cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. That's faster than plain toast. Don't deny yourself the natural stimulation this rich food offers. (Advt.)

Speaking For Car Riders

MORE than three-fourths of all those who use the streets of Chicago depend upon street cars for transportation. Rides on the Surface Lines each week day total one and one-half times the entire population of the metropolis.

Practically every man, woman and child is a street car rider.

Naturally, therefore, one would expect to find all traffic regulated with a view to expediting the movement of street cars.

But that is not the case.

Valuable street space on congested car-line streets is given over for the storage of automobiles.

And while boulevards are set aside as preferred rights-of-way for automobiles, street cars are left to take their chances with other vehicles which unnecessarily clutter up car tracks, laid, paved and maintained at the expense of car riders.

As the only spokesman for these millions of passengers, the Surface Lines management has called attention insistently to the necessity for improvement.

Regulation of parking and through street privileges on heavy-duty lines would be beneficial to the entire city.

There is no substitute for street car service

Doctors Prescribed It Long Before the Public Knew It

LONG before the general public knew the virtues and effectiveness of Gude's Pepto-Mangan, it was prescribed by hundreds of physicians to patients in need of a good tonic. Since its introduction to the public, doctors will prescribe it. The fact that it has had the confidence of the medical profession for over 33 years is the best proof that it is a quick and efficient iron tonic.

But Gude's Pepto-Mangan is more than an ordinary iron tonic, for with the iron there is scientifically combined manganese and predigested albumin, the value of which is well known to physicians.

What Doctors Write

"I have been prescribing Gude's Pepto-Mangan for quite a number of years... I have always found it a valuable tonic and the extremely pleasant and palatable form in which Gude's Pepto-Mangan is prepared, combined with its easy assimilation, has rendered it invaluable to me in my practice."

"I have had results in simple anemia with Gude's Pepto-Mangan and am recommending it to all my patients."

"I have used it for 18 years with always good results."

WOMAN KILLED AS AUTOUPSETS AVOIDING CRASH

Two Deaths Raise 1926
Toll to 127.

Mrs. Anita Lundin, 27 years old, was killed last night when the automobile in which she was riding, driven by her husband, Elmer, skidded from the street at Waveland and Kedzie avenues and overturned in a prairie. According to police, Lundin had attempted to pass another automobile and in order to avoid a collision swerved sharply. He was not severely injured.

Amos Reynolds, 22 years old, colored, died in the Jefferson Park hospital from injuries received when he fell from a truck on which he was riding at Ravenswood and Wilson avenues early yesterday.

Toll Is Raised to 127.
The two deaths made the Cook county motor death toll 127 for the year.

Max Rubin, 43 years old, 7823 Sheridan road, was badly hurt when he was struck by an automobile driven by Rudolph Bertram, 5634 Stewart avenue, at Halsted and 43d streets. Bertram took the injured man to the Englewood hospital and then reported the accident to police who are holding him.

Mrs. Andrew Wilson, 66 years old, of Aurora, died of injuries received Sunday night when struck by an automobile in Aurora. It was only the second fatal automobile accident in Aurora since Jan. 1.

Mrs. Bertha Stiles, 72 years old, 5800 South Park avenue, received a broken leg when she was struck by an automobile driven by Jerome Metcalf, 23 years old, 7080 Eggleston avenue. The accident occurred at 55th street and South Michigan avenue.

Wolf Gives His Cure.

Legislation to regulate who shall drive automobiles and who shall not is the best way to stop Cook county's increasing auto deaths, it was contended by Coroner Oscar Wolf yesterday after seeing figures showing that the number of such fatalities has jumped 41 per cent so far this year over the like period of 1925.

"One thousand more coppers and a couple of million more safety signs would still be unavailing, so long as every physical and mental incompetent, as well as every vicious criminal, in the community is permitted to race around at the wheel of an automobile," declared Coroner Wolf.

Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal courts agreed with the coroner that some such law is necessary.

RENT ADJOINING STORE, TUNNEL TO $100,000 FUR LOOT

New York, March 1.—[Special.]—Following out the most elaborate plans calling for excavation and tunneling operations, thieves early today forced entrance to the basement of the fur establishment of Julius Klugman's Sons, Inc., at 151-5 West 30th street, and stole 2,000 skins worth $100,000.

The robbery was executed in the heart of the city with a thoroughness that experienced detectives have seldom encountered. For more than a week, the police believe, the thieves labored with pick and shovel, digging out tons of earth and gradually worming a path underground.

Execution of the robbery plans started about eight days ago, when a vacant store which almost backs up to the rear of the Klugman shop was rented. A wooden partition was erected in the middle of the store, shutting off all view of the operations. The handits then dug their tunnel.

Nine armed men today held up the proprietors and forty-four male employees of the fur dyeing factory of Apfelbaum & Cohn at 524 Osborn street and stole furs valued at about $40,000.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga.—(Adv.)

HARVARD SQUARE, CAMBRIDGE. Cambridge is really Boston. Only the Mian Charles River separates these two historic towns. Yet in this community, listed as a separate municipality by the census, live 119,000 prosperous people, more than 16,000 families. Forty-two out of every hundred of these families read the Herald-Traveler.

There are nearly 2,000,000 prospects for your goods in Boston

THINK of Business Boston as a great compact city, really the fourth largest in the country. No such city appears on the official map or on the census list, yet such a city exists, and every national advertiser should know it!

There are more people per square mile in Business Boston than in any other city in the United States—New York excepted. It is the fourth richest market in the country. And one of the easiest to sell, once you know its secret!

Business Boston is a wheel—not merely a hub.

The way to success in Boston

The Boston market is unique in this respect: It is a divided market. The people of Boston separate into two great population groups, divided on lines of sentiment, tradition and origin. They think differently, feel differently, and read different newspapers. So marked is this population division that no single newspaper can, with success, appeal to both groups.

To sell both these great population groups you must use at least two newspapers, and one of these must be the Boston Herald-Traveler. For the more important of these population groups is covered by the Herald-Traveler only. The other three major Boston newspapers all appeal to the other population group.

Let us tell you more about this peculiar Boston situation. Write today for our booklet, "Business Boston." You'll find it full of surprising and important information. A request under your business letterhead will bring it promptly.

MICHIGAN JOINS COURT WAR UPON SANITARY CANAL

Washington, D. C., March 1.—(Special.)—The right of congress to authorize the diversion of water from one state to another for any purpose, especially for "flushing an open sewer maintained in violation of modern standards of sanitation"—is at issue in the petition filed in the United States Supreme court today by Attorney General Andrew B. Douglass of the state of Michigan, seeking an injunction against the Chicago sanitary district's drainage canal.

With the formal entry today of Michigan, eleven states are tangled in the like level controversy in the Supreme court. Six of them—Minnesota, Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Michigan—are allied against Illinois, but Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, and Louisiana, are defending the diversion as necessary if the Mississippi valley is to be protected against sewage pollution and if the lakes-to-gulf waterway is to be realized.

Illinois Denies Jurisdiction.

While Michigan and Indiana have filed independent suits, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Ohio, and Pennsylvania filed a joint petition which the Supreme court has set for oral argument on March 8.

The Michigan petition may cause the court to postpone the March 8 hearing until the defendants' answers have been filed, so that the whole problem can be disposed of in a single hearing.

In their answers to the other petitions, Illinois and the sanitary district have denied the jurisdiction of the Supreme court in the squabble.

Dougherty Issues Statement.

Lansing, Mich., March 1.—(AP)—Attorney General Andrew B. Douglass, in a statement tonight, said:

"It is not my intention to let Chicago take water permanently from the lakes for the operation of an open sewer through Illinois and for the development of an hydro-electric plant at Lockport at the expense of the natural rights of Michigan."

BECK TO PLEAD FOR CHICAGO.

James M. Beck, former United States solicitor general, has been retained by the sanitary district in the suit of Wisconsin and other states to restrict lake water diversion into the Chicago drainage canal. Lawrence F. King, president, announced yesterday. Mr. Beck will make the chief oral arguments before the Supreme court when the case comes up on March 8.

"Knowledge Stealer" Put on Probation for Year

Don A. Case, 21 years old, was yesterday placed on probation for one year by Judge Francis Borrelli in the South Clark street court, where he was arraigned for stealing ten books from Brentano's loop book shop. He pleaded that he was "only stealing knowledge." The judge placed him on probation when Attorney David J. Rutner offered to pay the $52 for the books and keep them himself.

WISCONSIN WINS BOUNDARY SUIT IN HIGH COURT

(Chicago Tribune From Service.)

Washington, D. C., March 1.—(Special.)—Wisconsin won an eighty year old dispute with Michigan in the United States Supreme court today when a decision confirming its ownership of a strip of land between the headwaters of the Montreal and Menominee rivers was handed down.

Under the decision the famous old mining and lumbering town of Hurley remains in Wisconsin. Michigan loses its claims to a number of large islands in Green bay, and a number of smaller islands in the Menominee river are to be divided practically equally between the two states. In order that the dispute may be definitely settled for all time the high court allowed each state thirty days in which to ask a more detailed decree.

The old theory of "possession nine points in the law"—in this case "possession and taxation"—played an important part in the decree, which points out that for more than sixty years at least Michigan raised no serious legal objection to the jurisdiction by Wisconsin over the disputed territory.

The Green Bay area which the court ruled belonged to Wisconsin because of possession antedating the state's admission to the union, includes Rock, St. Martin's, Washington, Detroit, Plum, Chambers, Strawberry, and other islands.

Yellow Cab

Is Looking for a Man

To Mr. Jozef Bartosz
Somewhere in America

On the afternoon of Jan. 14 you hailed a YELLOW CAB and rode to one of the depots. After you had gone the driver found that you had left your wallet on the seat. It contained $490 in currency and a $100 bond. Your name was there but not your address.

Evidently you are not a Chicago man. Your name doesn't appear in either the city or telephone directory, hence this advertisement seems to be the only means we can use to locate you. If it catches your eye, write or call in person and identify your property.

We are publishing herewith the photograph of Ludwig H. Kalkus, the driver of the cab. Do you remember him? After you had been delivered at the depot, he looked in his cab, according to Company rule, and found the wallet on the seat. He turned it in to our lost and found department.

The action of Driver Kalkus was in the natural course of business, and just such a thing as any of our 6,000 drivers would have done—and have been doing for years.

During 1925 articles left in Yellow Cabs and turned into the Lost and Found Department by our drivers, approximated $165,000.00 in value.

WILLIE RITOLA TO COMPETE IN N. A. A. U. GAMES

Tireless Finn Seeks Two Mile Title.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.
Willie Ritola of the Finnish-American A. C., New York City, who has been one of the country's leading distance runners for years, will be among the starters in the two mile run, one of the feature events of the National A. A. U. indoor track and field championships to be held at the Chicago Fielding club on Saturday night under the joint auspices of the I. A. C. and C. A. A.

In this event Ritola will meet George Lammont of the Boston A. A. A. and several other two mile champions who are the holders of the national title for six miles. With Joe Day of the I. A. C. now a professional, the west has no runners to furnish serious competition to Ritola, and Lammont.

Wide Distances Start Entered.
The 50 and 100 yard championships have attracted some well known runners. Skuyler Enck, of the Penn State athlete, who is competing under the colors of the Bluebrook club of Philadelphia, will run in the 100 yard race. John Jones of the New York A. C., Ray Johnson of the Boston A. A. A. and John Fenton, the Hollander, will be among the fast field of starters in the 50 yard event.

Patience of Butler college, who won the 100 yard run at the Illinois relay meet, will start in his specialty, while John Gray of Philadelphia, a member of the 1924 American Olympic team, will compete in the two mile dash. Ray Dodge of the I. A. C. will be among the hopes of the race for honors in the 1000 yard run, while both local clubs will be represented in the 500 yard run.

Featured in Dash Event.
Boris of Alfred Lecony of the Bluebrook club of Philadelphia and Charles Bourne of the Newark A. C. were featured for the 60 yard dash and 100 yard run. Delbert Hubbard, the former Negro all around athlete of the University of Michigan, who holds the world's record in the running broad jump, will be here for the dash and 100 yard event, while N. Locknick of Butler former Syracuse university football player, will run in the dash and 100 yard event.

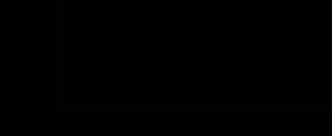

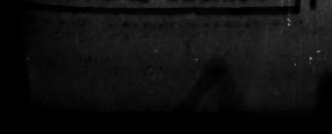

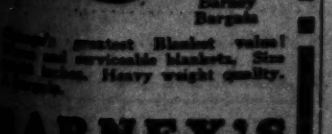

SENCIO-BURNS VICTOR TO GET TAYLOR MATCH

Announcement was made yesterday by Promoter Muller that the winner of the ten round bout between Sencio Burns and Tiger Jack Burns, Greek heavyweight, at East Chicago Friday night, will be matched with Bud Taylor of Torre Blanca. Eddie Long, manager of Taylor, agreed to such a match when he left for the coast last Sunday.

Burns and Burns worked at Mulvey's yesterday. Burns traded punches with Eddie Schaefer for three rounds in a free to the battle. Other fighters in the card resumed preparation at the club place.

AT BARNEY'S TODAY and WED. HEAVY O. D.

Blanket SPECIAL!

Appointment of Tony Hinkle at Butler Near

Indianapolis, Ind., March 1.—(Special.)—Appointment of Paul D. (Tony) Hinkle, former University of Chicago star, as acting director of athletics, and immediate release of H. O. (Pat) Page, is expected momentarily at Butler university.

Page, who announced his resignation at Butler Thursday night, is expected to forsake midwestern campuses and work next fall either on the Atlantic or Pacific seaboard.

Offer from Washington State.
Pat was approached by Washington State college spokesmen over the week-end at the Illinois relay, and it is known he is seriously considering taking the athletic directorship at Pullman. Page also has received overtures from Amherst and Columbia, it is understood.

Friends of Page now assert that whatever thoughts he had of going to Indiana university have been abandoned. They say for love of Butler alone, if for no other reason, he will not again coach in Hoonerdom for some time.

Any appointment of Hinkle would be temporary. Later he might receive Page's former berth.

Students Would Keep Pat.
Somewhat as a rejoinder to rumors that Page resigned because new equipment was refused him was announced this afternoon by John W. Atherton, financial secretary, of detailed plans for a concrete stadium "to seat at least 25,000 on the new Butler campus." The first football game would be played in it in 1927. Later, he said, the stadium capacity would be more than doubled. An indoor basketball court, seating 7,000, also is planned.

All Butler undergraduates have not abandoned hopes of keeping Pat here. One interfraternity council is sponsor for a student meeting scheduled for Tuesday noon.

MENOMINEE COACH RESIGNS.

Marquette, Wis., March 1.—(Special.)—Guy V. Euston, director of athletics and physical education in the Menominee schools the last five years, has resigned.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

DERBY CHOICES.

DEAR WAKE: Now that entries for the Kentucky Derby have been announced there will be many columns written about the 3 year old form of the various contenders. About Pompey, whose money winnings of $121,639 in 1925 were greater than any other horse and who is now the winter book favorite, taking his daily gallops at Belmont park; about Canter, who won eight of eighteen starts and was second to Pompey in money prizes; about the sensational Haate, who won three of four starts; about Mara, who made the fastest time of them all, 1:37, in the Junior Champion stakes at Aqueduct.

Nor must we overlook the best that was shown in the west, Bubbling Over, from the barn of E. R. Bradley, who won seven of ten starts; nor Display, the Canadian crack of last year.

So we might as well start asking right now the question which will push the turfmen for the next six months, including May 15 at Louisville. Who is the best 3 year old of 1926? I predict one of the "Golden Ten," given in order of preference, will qualify.

1—Canter 7—Mara
2—Pompey 8—Pestle
3—Bubbling Over 9—Rock Man
4—Display 10—Navigator

On 3 year old form Haate and Harnaticus will figure favorably at distances of a mile or under. Those colts that cannot carry their speed and weight farther than one mile will cut very little figure in the three year old classics of 1926.

Nobody Likes Mr. Crow, but He "Sticks"

BY BOB BECKER.

Excellent as a corn puller, the common crow has been getting brickbats and small shot from hunters and farmers for many years, but this black rascal has managed to keep going just the same.

According to an old Winnebago Indian story, the crow is a nuisance and has never been held in high esteem by that tribe of red men because it would dance comically. An amusing custom has grown out of the crow's reputation for scolding himself, according to the Indians. At a ceremonial feast the Indians are compelled to eat all the food handed out to them or else call for help. When the Indian sounded a distress signal another Indian in the party would give the same call and then rush to the assistance of his stranded friend as a crow at a "corn party" calls on his friends to join him in the field for the feast.

There are thousands of crows around Chicago in spite of concerted hunts and snare decoy shooting. Counting for the black fellows can be made quite a sport, one that is a conservation measure, too, as crows, some species of hawks, as well as weasels, can raise havoc with song and game birds.

PIPP THREATENS TO QUIT UNLESS YANKS PAY BONUS.
St. Petersburg, Fla., March 1.—(Special.)—Wally Pipp, first baseman, sold by the Yankees to Cincinnati, announced today that he probably would not report to the Reds and might retire from baseball unless paid a part of the purchase money by the Yankees.

Pipp's demand is for half the purchase money above the winter price of $4,000. Since it is understood the Reds paid about $20,000 for him, the amount that Wally thinks is coming to him is $5,000.

WHEAT IGNORES DAY'S NEWS AND PRICES TUMBLE

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Liquidation was on in the wheat market with a near collapse toward the last, all deliveries settling at a new low on the present downturn with May the lowest since the last week in November, breaking 7 1/2c the early high, and the finish was at the bottom, with net losses of 1 1/2c. Opening as high as $1.68 1/2, the market was sold off by foreign buyers, mostly steadily in the face of seasonally bullish private estimates on basis reserves and at the finish touched 7 1/2c, with the close at that price 1/2c over. July broke from $1.44 1/2 to $1.40 1/2, and closed at $1.40 1/2, 1/4c below September, which was at $1.44 1/2. The market was weak throughout the day in sympathy with wheat and on a heavy construction placed on farm reserves. May corn sold as high as 90 1/2c at the start and was 77 1/2c at the close, with July at 80 1/2c, with net losses of 1 1/2c. Oats were 10 1/2c at the start and 9 1/2c at the close, with net losses of 1 1/2c. Rye sold at a new low on the present downturn with net losses of 1 1/2c, with the close at the bottom, May being 77 1/2c, and July 80 1/2c.

Wheat in Bad Luck

Heavy eastern connections were reported as for eastern interests were liquidating grain in order to protect their trades in the stock market in New York. Lines of wheat held by eastern buyers went overboard on the way down and numerous stop loss orders were uncovered, while sellers of both daily and weekly bills were forced to protect themselves, adding to the pressure on the market. The best support came from shorts and holders of bids.

Wheat's report on the new winter wheat crop gave a tentative condition of 1 points better than last year, but preliminary figures were not issued. There was a noticeable lack of foreign interest at the seaboard. Liverpool was 10 1/2c lower, while Buenos Aires lost 1/2c for the day with March at 11 1/2c and May at 11 1/2c. Winnipeg closed 8 1/2c lower with May 18 1/2c under Chicago.

Cuts Under Pressure

Cuts were under pressure from the start, as private estimates on farm reserves showed an average of 1,300,000 bu. in excess of 1925, but last year, the third largest on record. Taken in connection with the below average supply of wheat on feed the reports were a source of wheat and led to general selling. Stop loss orders were caught on the way down, while shorts were the best buyers. Visible supply increased 1,100,000 bu. for the week and to 22,571,000 bu. against 22,588,000 bu. last year. The value was 10c higher to 10c lower. Decline in oats and rye was largely in sympathy with other grains.

New York, March 1.—(P)—Official reports reached Wall Street today that the American Steel and Wire company, subsidiary of United States Steel corporation, planned construction of a plant at Gary, Ind., to cost $10,000,000 and employing 6,000 workers. Hog receipts at 44,000, including 4,500 direct to packers, were among the smallest for Monday in several months and with shipping demand fairly urgent, absorbing 38,000 hogs, the market opened largely 10¢ to 15¢ above the close of last week, but finished flat at the low time of the session. Relatively high priced light weakened most after mid-session, some 300 lb averages and down showing as much as 15¢ to 20¢ reduction from opening quotations, resulting in a narrowing of the price range late. Fancy light weight up to $14.00 at the start was no criterion, numerous sales of 180 to 190 lb averages being made at $13.00 to $13.50, with prime 255 lb butchers as high as $12.50 and 300 pounders up to $12.00 at the high point of the day. General average price moved up 5¢ to $12.50. The daily top and average hog prices jumped $1.50 during the corresponding week a year ago.

Cattle receipts at 15,000 were only moderate for Monday and below general expectations. However, trading moved slowly, with weakness evident after a few special orders were filled at steady prices. Quality graded good, arrivals carrying a larger quota of steers eligible to $5.00 and up, which sold to the poorest advantage. South Dakota steers averaging 1,400 lb, topped at $11.00, with 1,500 lb. Dakota yearlings up to $10.75. Yearlings averaging 910 lb. reached $10.50. A load of 1,700 lb. steers at $9.50 was one of the feature sales of the day. Butcher stock held steady, early, but weakened late. Canners, bulls, calves and stockers and feeders showed little change in prices.

Lamb Receipts Advances

The second smallest Monday sheep receipts in nearly three months at 15,000 sent killing lambs up mostly 50¢ under brisk competition between local and outside buyers. Packers paid $15.00 for fancy 30 lb. fed westerns on shipping account, the first to reach that figure since Feb. 4. Top was $2.00 above the peak 10 days previous. Prime 34 lb. averages brought $14.25. Choice light shorn lambs reached $12.75 and 50 lb averages $12.50. Marketward movement of Colorado and Nebraska lambs was curtailed in an effort to let the trade recover some of the recent loss, which accounts for the substantial cut in receipts. Matured sheep, yearlings and shorn lambs were scarce and shared in part of the advance.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 11,000 cattle, 30,000 hogs and 14,000 sheep, against 10,547 cattle, 15,732 hogs and 12,754 sheep, the corresponding Tuesday a year ago.

The Studebaker corporation, one of the largest factors in the automobile industry, had one of the best years in its history last year and expects this year to be highly prosperous.

Production in January and February is 40 per cent ahead of last year and the outlook for spring business is excellent.

President A. H. Studebaker says in the annual report: "Plant facilities were increased last fall so that 200,000 cars a year can be produced if and when the market demands them. The export business last year showed an increase of 84 per cent."

Total Sales $161,822,244.

Sales of cars last year were 124,664 for $161,822,244, compared with 110,240 for $135,406,055 in 1924, and with 145,187 for $168,152,655 in 1923.

Net profits for 1925, after all charges and taxes, were $11,612,522, equivalent after preferred dividends to $15.55 a share on 1,675,000 shares of no par common stock.

After deducting $6.37 a share, the net profit was $9.18, of which $3,000,000 was set up as a contingent reserve and $1,596,435 was added to corporate surplus, which now stands at $2,499,238.

Net profits for 1924 were $11,778,895, equivalent to $7.01 a share on the common stock, and after paying $4 in dividends there was surplus of $5,978,895.

Net profits for 1923 were $11,778,895, equivalent to $7.01 a share on the common stock, and after paying $4 in dividends there was surplus of $5,978,895.

Net earnings for 1925, after depreciation but before interest and federal taxes, were $18,894,846, compared with $18,845,440. Last year's earnings, after allowance for taxes, interest and preferred dividends, were equivalent to $9.35 a share on the class A and B common stocks.

Mail Firms Prosper.

ROCK ISLAND AND FRISCO PLAN MERGER

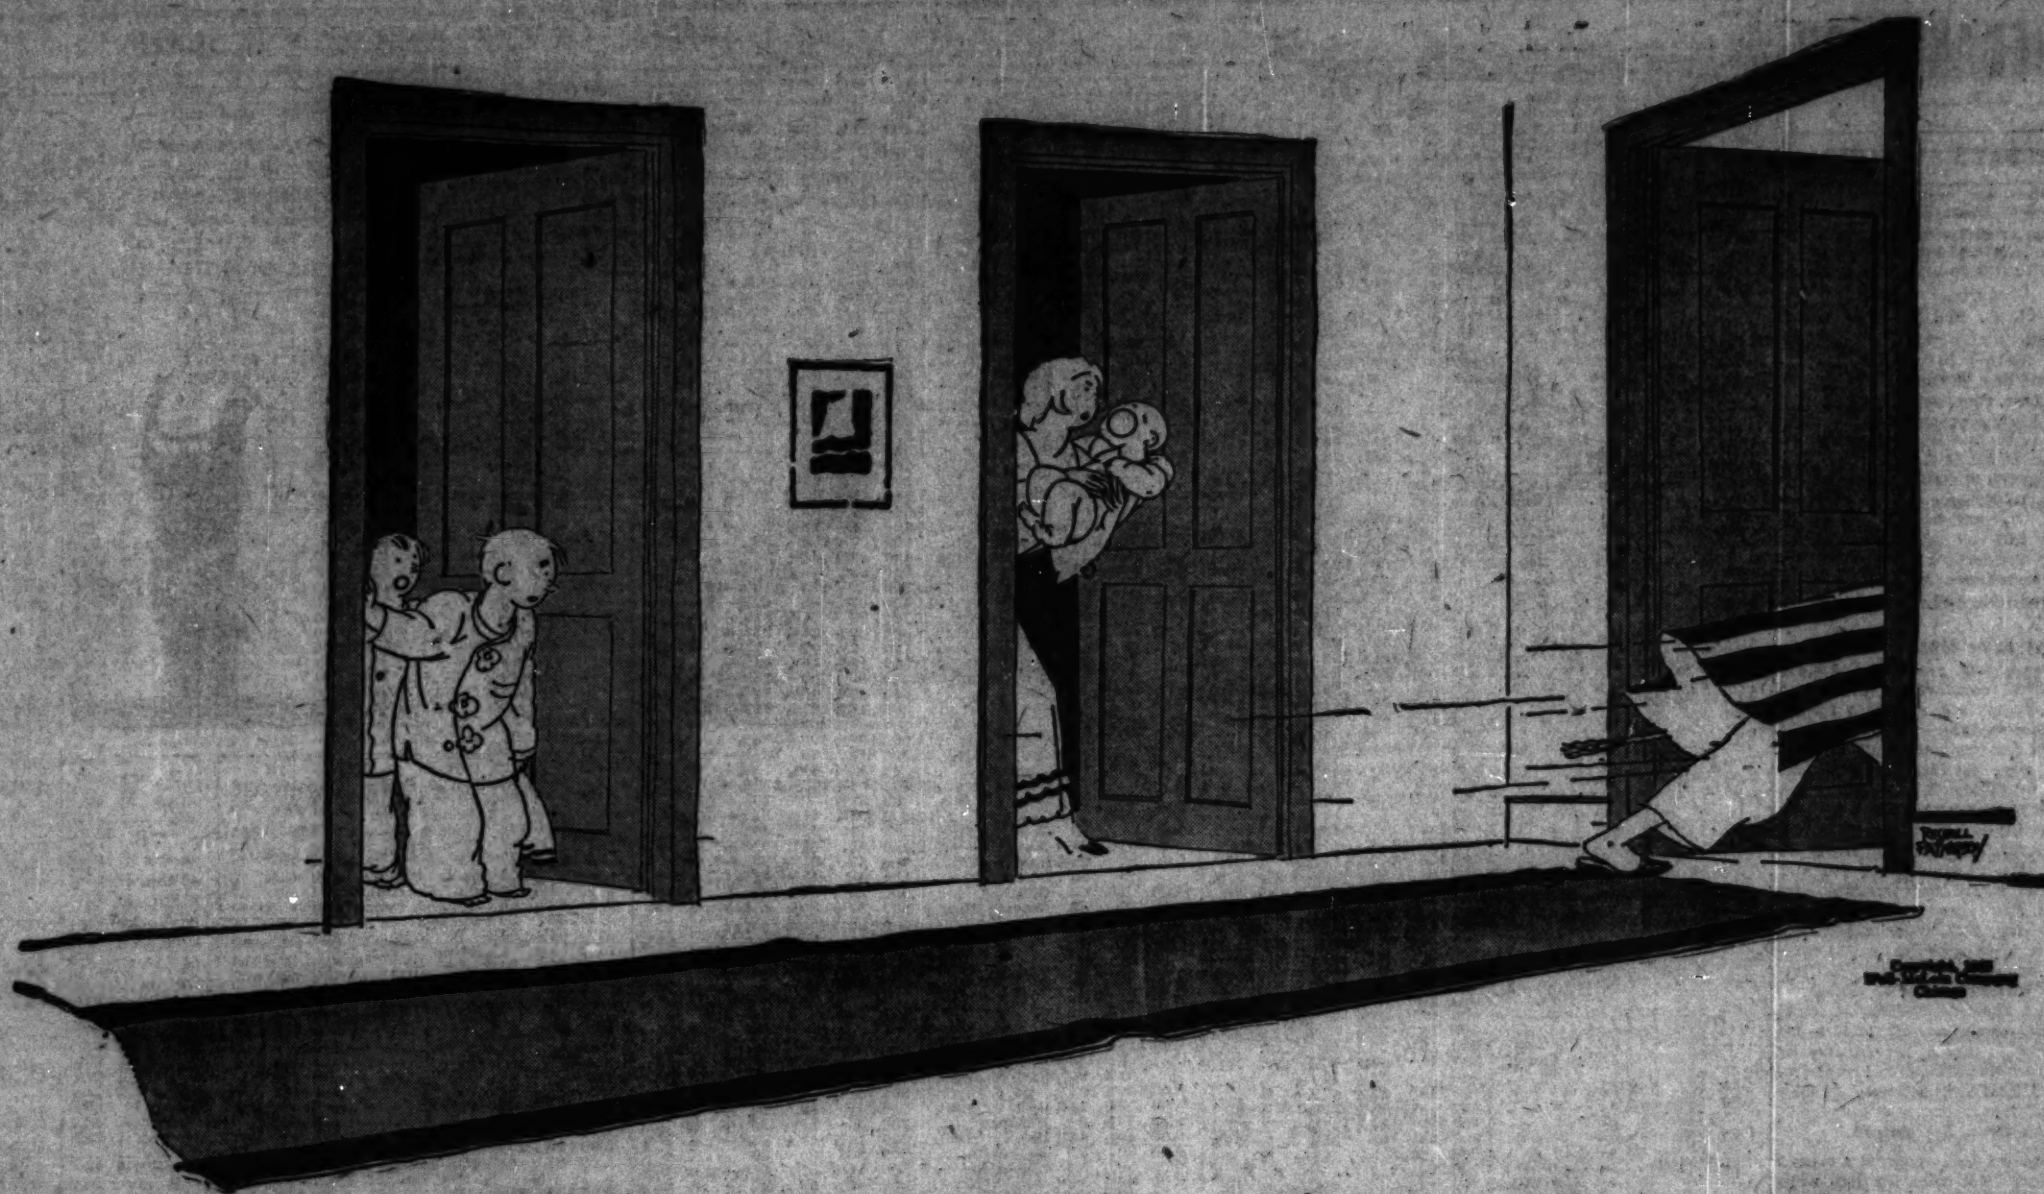

Washington, D. C., March 1.—(AP)—Tentative plans for a unification of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific and the St. Louis-San Francisco railroads to meet competition of other lines are being considered today at a hearing before the interstate commerce commission.

J. M. Kure, president of the Frisco, testified that other roads in the same territory were contemplating mergers and that if his company was denied authority to link its system with the Rock Island its development and growth would be held up. Representatives of shippers and the general public from the territory served by the two lines also appeared in support of the plan.

Edward N. Brown, chairman of the Frisco, outlined the first step in the merger plan. This, he said, involved the purchase by the Frisco through its bankers of 183,243 shares of Rock Island and common stock out of a total of 276,000 shares purchased by the bankers at its suggestion.

The early bird again gets the BATHROOM

It is 7:30 in the average American household. The morning rush has started. No one has a second to lose. What happens? The "early bird" gets the bathroom first and the "later birds" and "little birds" have to wait. Again refreshing morning baths are lost while Dad slices his chin during a hectic shave. Again comfort is sacrificed and health neglected. Once more breakfasts, if any, are gulped. A family that should be congenial go their ways with frowns and scowls and caustic comments. Thus, morning after morning, comfort, convenience and happiness are sacrificed—all for the want of sufficient bathroom facilities.

A Matter of Great Importance to Every Family

Americans are the cleanest people in the world. They like to feel clean and like to be clean. Yet it is safe to say that 85% of homes and apartments today need more bathrooms. In fact, most all home owners, tenants, architects and builders agree that it is a mistake to economize on bathrooms.

There is today no excuse for practicing this false economy in bathrooms. The Weil-McLain Company offers builders dependable plumbing fixtures at prices that put more bathrooms within the reach of everyone.

Why Weil-McLain Can Serve You Best

First—The Weil-McLain Company sells millions of dollars worth of quality plumbing equipment yearly right here in Greater Chicago and the Middle West—and therefore knows what people want and what will best fit their requirements.

Third—The Weil-McLain Company has made a special study of the need for more bathrooms in modern homes and apartments, and is in position to offer ideas on how to have more bathrooms and how to keep the cost within the reach of all.

Ginger Snaps.
The agreeable bits of hard ginger bread called ginger snaps seem to be coming into their own again, as a home made product. When freshly made, if the work has been successful, there is far superior to any of the varieties named of this order which come from the baker.

Excellent results can be obtained from the following recipe, to which can be added much more ginger than the normal calls for, although the more ginger the better, as it is probably a more pleasantly agreeable snack than those out dough will be, and also the smoother and more brittle the snaps will be. The butter in the recipe may be creamed, or the butter perfectly broken up, and the brown sugar into it, and molasses, to get a mass of even consistency, then work in flour with the hands, and add soda may be sifted. Chill the dough and shape out into as thin a sheet as possible. Add egg white may be worked into the dough, and since it makes it lighter it may then require longer baking.

Ten minutes in a 375 degree oven is long enough for the baking of the

One-half cup of butter, one-half cup of brown sugar, one cup of molasses, one teaspoon of soda, one-half teaspoon of ginger, one-half teaspoon of cinnamon, one-eighth of a cup of cloves, one cup of flour if that much can be worked in. The more flour than can be worked in, within reason, the smoother the wafer thin sheet of rolled

Little Nancy Poole to Aid Ticket Sale of Woman's World Fair

My dear Mrs. McFadden: I shall be glad to assume the responsibility of selling tickets in Lake Forest. Kindly advise me as to the time and place. I expect to do a rushing business. Sincerely yours, NANCY POOLE.

While business like epistle was penned to the Ralph H. Poole's 7 year old daughter and was addressed to Mrs. McFadden, who is chairman of the advance ticket sale for the Woman's World Fair which is to open April 11 at the Fairgrounds. It is the acceptance of Mrs. McFadden's invitation to the ambitious young Nancy Poole to become the youngest chairman of her large corps of volunteer workers. Nancy distinguished herself as a salesman last year by disposing of a large number of tickets. She probably would attribute her success to her trusty biographer which carried her on many a long expedition.

The Woman's Athletic club announced the first of a series of Tuesday morning lectures on "Current Affairs and Literary Reviews" at 11 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Anthony French Merrill will be the speaker. Wilhelm Ludwig Baum will give his residence at 11 o'clock this morning for the women's club of the Chicago Ethical society, which is sponsoring a lecture on "Some Plays of Shakespeare" by Horace Bridge.

Howard H. Spaulding Jr., of 311 East Madison place was a weekend guest at the Michigan City estate of a former party for Miss Elizabeth and her daughter, Mrs. J. J. McFadden. Mrs. J. J. McFadden, who is chairman of the committee in charge of the fair, will be the speakers.

Three golfers, DEAGAN & MACK, will be the guests of the fair. The fair is to be held at the fairgrounds on Saturday, March 11, at 1 o'clock.

Romance Beckons, and Once More Wife Calls Mate Prosaic

By DORIS BLAKE.

"I am a married woman, aged 30. I married a man I had known all my life. We have been married six years now. I have a baby, 3. He is a dear little fellow, too. I love him more than anything else in the world, which may sound strange to you when I reveal why I write you. About a year ago I met, through my husband, a perfectly charming man. He is what you would call a man of the world. Knows just the right thing to do, and tells a woman those nice complimentary things she likes to hear. My husband is a slow, prosaic sort of fellow. He is kind and, of course, what is his mine. We never have a word. But I have to admit there are times when I yearn for this other man's company. I may be vain, and foolish, and all that, but I do like flattery. My husband never gives it to me. He is absolutely the most unromantic man on earth."

And so on, and so on. You know how the tempted wife writes when they want just a little encouragement to go ahead and do something they know in their hearts they should not do. The "interesting" man wants her to lunch and dine with him. Not yet—she hasn't accepted! But she's wondering if it would do any harm. It's a funny old world, isn't it? With half of its women wishing they had a nice, good, kind, reliable husband and a baby, and the other half wondering how they can run themselves out of just such a comfortable setting? All for a romantic thrill which isn't worth the hour spent doing up for the luncheon date, so far as the "interesting" man is concerned.

One thing you wives who are looking for a dash of excitement with eggs of flattery thrown in should try to remember is that when a man isn't saying any household words, he has a lot of time to rehearse pretty speeches. He has time to treat you to luncheon, or a dinner, occasionally—but you can be pretty sure if he had to supply your breakfast food, and your meals three times a day he wouldn't be any longer on a very than the one you have. And, what's more, if you saw him three times a day you'd soon find he was just as prosy and unromantic. No husband can answer that cry for novelty and flattery, excitement, and gratified vanity that a wife of this kind seems to want. If you want happiness—not a cheap imitation of it—give! I don't take. Give the prosaic one who is sharing everything he has with you a little of that romance you are talking about, and the flattery, too, and see if forgetting yourself entirely doesn't work a miraculous change in him.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Tactful Correction.

"Dear Miss Blake: I go with a fellow of whom I am fond, but he always has dirty talks. Do you think it would be proper for me to tell him?"

"Sally: Call his attention to it indirectly, that is, by referring to a similar fault in another. If he is alert, he'll take it to himself and correct his fault, dear."

Telephone Her.

"Dear Miss Blake: I met a beautiful girl and fell in love. I do not know if she cares for me. How can I find out?"

"Inquire: Call her up and tell her how much you enjoyed meeting her. That will please her, and may evoke an invitation to spend an evening with her."

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, March 1.—[Special.]—In formality in entertaining is the rule of the Lenten season, so while life is not exactly gay for those who are remaining in town for this period there is sufficient social activity to relieve the monotony of serious classes and Lenten lectures. One of these delightful affairs was given by Parker Moore Hooper, who keeps bachelor quarters at his studio, 118 East 60th street, in the ball room of the Hotel Selwyn for Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Hill French Jr. The dance was preceded by dinner for 25, and afterward 75 additional guests came in for the dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Cushing III, and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Vanderbilt are at the Ambassador at Atlantic City.

Commander and Mrs. W. S. Davidson and Mrs. Davidson's mother, Mrs. Louise Adair, have arrived from Newport and are at 14 East 60th street.

Eucharist Congress Ceremonies to Reach Climax at Mundelein

With the return of Cardinal Mundelein from his vacation in Florida the work in preparation for the Eucharist congress, which begins officially June 26 and unofficially on June 17, is being pushed with increasing energy.

The climax of the ceremonies of the congress will be held at Mundelein, Ill., on the thousand acre campus of St. Mary of the Lake seminary. The winding roadway through the campus will afford an opportunity for a procession three miles in length. The church of colonial design, which is the chapel of the seminary, will be open for the celebration of the various masses in which visiting cardinals from Rome and other countries will officiate with unusual solemnity and magnificence.

On the days preceding the final day at Mundelein Chicago's most spectacular places of meeting will be utilized. The Municipal pier, the Coliseum, Soldiers' field, and other large halls and open spaces on the lake front.

One of the largest delegations will come from Ireland. Heading the Irish representatives will be Cardinal O'Donnell, primate of Ireland and archbishop of Armagh, successor of the late Cardinal Logue. Other members of the Irish hierarchy will attend, and with them will come students from the universities of Dublin, Galway, and Cork. The Holy Name society has sent word to the Very Rev. Mr. C. J. Quinn, general secretary of the congress, that 5,000 members of the society will come to Chicago for the congress.

Charleston to Make Debut at Moscow Masque Ball

MOSCOW, March 1.—[AP.]—With the aid of an American Negro jazz band, Soviet Russia is to have its first masque ball this week in the nationalized palace of a former commercial magnate. Since public dancing and hilarity has been interdicted by the government, this is a striking departure and evidence of social change in the new regime in Moscow.

The Charleston and the latest American ragtime will be introduced for the first time.

Elmer Silent Night Hunt Nearly in Vain

Few Stations Heard, but Some Are Good.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Although yesterday was not the Scriptural seventh, last evening was one of silence and rest.

At the appointed 7 o'clock hour all Chicago and nearby stations bid the world good night and left the air.

The entertaining talent, it may be presumed, left the studios and sought other occupation, each in his or her own way.

Unquestionably the stations' staffs, clerical, technical, and musical, hurriedly donned their wraps and hid to their own night by the fireside, or perchance to their favorite diversion—theater, dance, party, or friendly visit.

Anyhow, each and all left the goodly air free to us.

But the goodly air brought us almost naught.

The careful and intent searcher for distant stations and things common or curious may have found WEA, Madison, 130, broadcasting a running account of the Wisconsin-Michigan basketball game.

WBSC, Valparaiso, 745 until late, spoke with a strong, clear voice with a message in the form of liberal announcements and a pleasing vocal and instrumental musical program.

The same holds true for WEMT, the "Watch Tower" station, Berrien Springs, Mich., except that there was an organ recital at 8:45, and due to the greater distance, more "whistles and howls."

These continual nearly silent Monday nights make one pause and perhaps do some pondering. Of course, if one gets to pondering too deeply, too philosophically, perhaps one had better continue his more tangibly ending magazine story.

COLLEGE MAKES HONEYMOON OF KAUFMANS BRIEF

Honeymoons when enjoyed by seniors in a university must be brief. Daniel Webster Kaufman, nephew of H. L. Kaufman, president of the Congress Hotel company, and his bride are leaving today for New York City, whence they came Sunday, to return to their classes.

Young Kaufman—22—is a son of the late Daniel W. Kaufman, who died four years ago while vice president of the hotel company, is a senior at Columbia university.

His wife, Miss Mary Louise Fehling of Greenburg, Pa., receives her diploma at Miss Gibbs School for Girls in June. Her father, Dr. Ira R. Fehling, is a second cousin of the commander of the A. E. F.

The couple, here for a brief visit, stopped at the Congress.

BRITAIN TO BUY UP BROADCAST COMPANY JAN. 1

LONDON, March 1.—(AP)—The British Broadcasting company, the corporation of wireless equipment manufacturers which has a monopoly on broadcasting in Great Britain, is to be purchased by the government when its license expires, at the end of the present year.

A government committee, of which Rudyard Kipling is a member, has been inquiring into the business, with the object of drafting a comprehensive plan to govern broadcasting in the future.

Appointment is forecast of a permanent broadcasting commission, including, besides representatives of the government, men who have a special knowledge of the technical details of radio.

FASHIONS STOP AGE LIMIT RAISE FOR TRAIN FARES

(Continued from Page 1)—Perhaps for the first time in history women's fashions came up for official discussion in a parliament when Federal Council Haaß, chief of the Swiss railways and postal departments, was asked by the Swiss parliament to raise the limit of age, which is now 13 years, for half tariff tickets allowed on Swiss railways to children.

Haaß replied he could not change the present regulations because it was impossible in this age of chingled hair and short skirts to guess the age of a young woman. He added it would be a delicate task requiring the employment of experts, and, therefore, more employees and expense.

The deputies received his speech with smiles and the subject was dropped.
